THE FEMBOY CONSPIRACY

On the morning of July 16th, 2024, a display of escalating tensions among the Gange's own Primary People has sparked numerous inquiries among our fellow Gangeleons.

"VISTOR HAS FORSAKEN US ALL!"

Aggo Begals

What started as a disagreement between Vibbo and Aggo over the Gange's frequent involvement in Souls-like games turned into a heated conflict. Aggo began accusing Vibbo of being involved in a series of conspiracies, endangering their long-standing alliance. Aggo tried to portray Vibbo as a controlling figure in the recent "Dani Femboy Scandal."

However, the authenticity of Aggo's claims is being questioned. Landon Queefe, a loyal member of the gangeball community and friend of Brandos Banner, expressed the need for more evidence and discussions to better understand the accusations. Saying quote: "I think more evidence and talks may need to happen to further see where this accusation could've happened and maybe even mean more."

Despite this, members of the Gangeball community have expressed worries about the increasing display of femboyish behavior on the server. An anonymous member even speculated that Aggo and Dani themselves might fall into the femboy category. Saying,

"[The accusation] is damning but Aggo and Dani be tickling bootyholes all the time so like what if they were femboys the whole time."

The Dinkleman Prints Investigation Team has consulted an experienced professional with their own insights to shed light on the rising femboy trend and offer potential explanations. This individual has also requested anonymity.

"The accusations began with Aggo, but the truth is that Dani has been exposed to external influences beyond our control. Thus, Aggo's reasoning lacks a basis in reality. I just don't believe Vibbo is the origin of this femboy trend as it seems Daniel is creating femboyism for himself, and we are not following his actions."

THE FEMBOY CONSPIRACY

So, what do you think? Did Vibbo instigate the femboy scandals? Or did Dani get himself in this situation with little to no input on our behalf? Or do you agree with the anonymous member that maybe we are all responsible for this epidemic? We want to hear from you! Write us at theneebotimes@gangeball.com!

ECONOMY NEWS

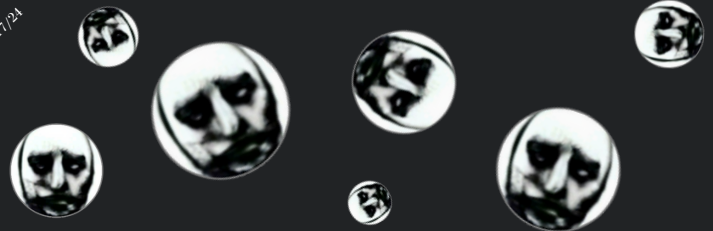

A LOOK AT THE NEW CHARLIE SYSTEM

The introduction of the new server system, known as the Charlie System, has sparked intrigue among the economists at Dinkleman Prints regarding the future trajectory of our economy.

The system works quite simply. Through a Vote of Parties, four members are elected to positions to direct the legislation of the server. Though no new legislation has passed within the new system, the production of new currency has already been slowed to decrease inflation by at least 20% by September (see GADOC-06). This month's tax cycle has seen an unprecedented amount of tax revenue at only 6,633cT, a 72% decrease since last month's revenue of 23,654cT. The Charlie System requires that a request pass both in the Congregation and in the Gange Council which may make it harder to change detrimental legislation passed easily before.

The Neebo Economy Tracker

The data and dates displayed in this chart depend on the cumulative usage of the command "leconomy-stats," which reveals the current currency in circulation. The yellow line depicts the wealthiest individual in the server, the orange line corresponds to the 10th position on the leaderboard, and the purple line represents the 5th position. Economists here at Dinkleman Prints have determined that the economy has inflated 48.5% since the beginning of the year with an estimated 71% average monthly inflation rate since May. The rapid rate of inflation is expected to sustain. Importantly, prices and wages have increased to meet the inflation.

2024 SPICY NIGHT PREDICTIONS

2024 Spicy Night is just around the corner! With new zeal for the event spreading around the Gange, our interviewers here at Dinkleman Prints have gathered predictions from potential attendees; including members of the Spice Committee in charge of planning the event.

Longtime Kevin, Kevin Carrillo, has predicted that:

"We will shit sideways and see shrimp satan."

Which when compared to his quote at the 2022 Spicy Night, "The last dab was not as bad as I expected," might mean Kevin, as a member of the Spice Committee, might be planning a more intense Spicy Night similar to the level of the 2023 Spicy Night, for those who know.

This theory might hold true as Kevin's fellow committee member, Dani Burgers, was quoted saying the event will be:

"A f*cking banger [with] excellent cuisine to go along with the sauce of a billion penetrations!"

Though its too early to tell what cuisine will be had at the event, longtime Gangeleon, Jabeany Lady, believes Dani will struggle to avoid vomiting, saying: "I imagine a recording of Daniel sitting by a cup or sink or bathroom whatever and just his mouth dripping and eyes watering 'cause he's dying [and] Aggo sheds a single tear in his left eye. He hard blinks it away." this comes in spite of the fact that for the previous two events Dani has seemingly been unaffected by the spice. Perhaps this year will be different? Brandos Banner believes that: "Some sillyness [will] occur. Some sick perhaps." And wouldn't it be the silliest thing ever if Dani Burgers finally succumbed to the spice? But beware! Jessroach, a longtime Gangeleon and friend of Jabean, believes: "The opps will get us because when opps see an opportunity to get us they will."

A question remains: what opps? Hmm? What opps, Jess?!

AGGO BEGALS MOVES HOME!

Longtime Gange member has returned to the 'hood after an almost two-year hiatus in the suburbs!

Though Aggo's previous commode was indeed deemed 'GOATed' by the likes of Dani and Vibbo, it was unfortunately far from the heart of the neighborhood where many Gangeleons reside, leading to lengthy but worthwhile road-trips of which the Gange will never forget.

Aggo's return to the neighborhood is a testament to the lifelong friendship that we share with him in that we shall always seek to incorporate his company in our various activities and adventures. Let us commemorate this transition and cherish the memories (and Boxes) that have carried us to this moment. Moreover, let the dawn of the Age of Reunion begin with Aggo.

DO YOU HAVE A GANGETBALL EMAIL?

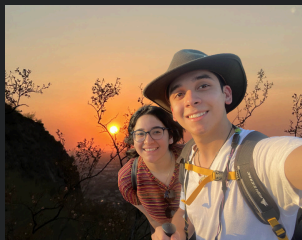

Members of the Gange have made a technological advancement in the name of Gange culture! No longer shall Gangeleons abide by the tyrannical sway of Google's emailing services, nowadays Gangeleons can register through Dani Burgers (the GOAT Commander of Gangeleon Services) to create their very own Gangeball Email (AKA Gangemail). Use Gangemail to receive official Gangeleon Services email as well as to use for Gange-related forms. Reach out to Dinkleman Prints at: theneebotimes@gangeball.com!

THE DESERT PHOENIX: JEAN & VIBBO IN ARIZONA

To celebrate Vibbo's 19th birthday, Jean flew out to Phoenix, Arizona to spend the weekend with him. Aside from simply enjoying each other's company, they also enjoyed a delicious seafood boil, an adventure to an amazing Arizona lake (Canyon Lake), and a wonderful sunset hike overlooking the city of Phoenix!

Vibbo says, "It was the best, cheesiest and blessed birthday I ever had! I love Jean!"

'Twas indeed blessed.

JESSROACH THE GAMER?

For a million years, Jessroach has never had proper access to computer games. But on July 30th, Jess, accompanied by her friend Jean, purchased her very own gaming laptop at approximately 4:30pm CST from a local Best Buy.

"The implications for Gmod Sandbox parties are crazy!" said Vibbo Muntaloons, longtime Gmod enthusiast.

The ASUS - TUF 15.6" Gaming Laptop comes complete with an Intel Core i7 processor, 16GB RAM, 1TB of storage and an NVIDIA GeForce RTX 4070 graphics card! Jess also upgraded her purchase with the addition of a Logitech Pop Keys Mechanical Keyboard along with a aesthetically matching mouse (both items Jean copped as well).

Our experts here at Dinkleman Prints agree that Jess' purchase was indeed an excellent choice as the specs of the gaming laptop are well within range to provide her an excellent computer-gaming experience!
